

WOODSTONE APPROVED DOOR STYLES

When the Woodstone community was constructed, Pulte chose two door styles. In 1997, the Woodstone Architectural Review Board (ARB) added three additional door styles to the approved list. In 2005, the ARB added another approved door style in an effort to keep current with the new trends in exterior home decor.

The approved door styles may be installed without approval by the ARB. Any deviation from the approved styles requires ARB approval prior to installation. While the doors are shown as natural wood below, the new door color must match that of the previously installed color. Any change in color must be approved by the ARB.
